

Parachute Guy

This Parachute Guy is a super fun craft for kids, and it's just as fun to play with him after you've made him! There are two options for this craft: print out Parachute Guy already colored, or color him yourself!

Ages: 3 and Up

Preschoolers will need some help cutting and tying the knots, but they will love to color and then play with their own parachute guy!

Here's what you'll need...

- Printed Parachute Guy - front and back
- Scissors
- Glue
- String or yarn
- Plastic bag
- Scotch tape
- Hole punch (scissors will work)

Here's how you make it...

- 1. Cut out your Parachute guy. Glue the front and the back together.
- 2. Wrap a small piece of scotch tape around each of his hands. This will give it more strength.

- 3. Punch a hole in each hand.
- 4. Cut two equal lengths of string. Tie one string onto one hand and the other on the other hand. Tie each end to the handles of a plastic bag.

Now you're ready to make Parachute Guy fly.

Don't be tempted to just use the front for your Parachute Guy. The front and the back of glued together give it just enough weight to work properly.
